Contractors Estimating on New Bridge Between Bailey and Orr's

It seems possible that the proposed bridge between Bailey and Orr's Islands in the town of Harpswell may be started this month if no further hindrance arises. The town appropriated $25,000 at the March meeting for the purpose. At that time plans for the bridge by a Portland architect had been prepared and an estimate of the cost was set at about $28,000. Rather than change the specifications it was decided to accept bids on the job and last week the bids were opened. Several had estimated on the wood and ironwork and one on the stonework. The cost according to these bids would have been above $33,000. A Bailey Islander, who is vitally interested in the bridge matter, has since seen the bridge engineers and a conference was held this last week at the engineer's office between him, the engineer, and one of the contractors who is bidding on the work, with the result that lower figures are to be put in. The plans of construction will be changed to lessen the cost several thousand dollars. Where possible the number of stone piers will be reduced and the coffer dam method of construction abandoned possibly by lengthening the draw and placing the piers which support it on the dry ledge. Mr. E. E. Sinnett, who represents the unanimous sentiment of Bailey Island, says that the contractors have been told to get their figures down under the appropriation if they want to get a share of the money. A view of the section to be bridged, indicating the well known gut between the two islands, is shown here. The distance is 1180 feet from shore to shore, but the bridge proper will be practically a 30 to 50 foot section over the deep water channel, the rest being approaches. It is to be built under a grant from the legislature dated 29 years ago.

Chebeague

GRADUATING CLASS AT HIGH SCHOOL GIVES FINE PROGRAM.

Cottages Along Shores Are Mostly Open.

The graduating exercises of the Chebeague High school were held at the Chebeague Methodist church, Thursday evening, June 19, 1913, at eight o'clock. The historic edifice was filled with relatives and friends of the graduates. Supt. D. W. Lunt in the opening address complimented the graduates in his usual pleasing manner. The speeches of the students showed careful study and they were delivered in a most excellent manner. The class poem by Evelyn Frances Hamilton and the class ode by Ethyl Randall Hamilton were both deserving of merit. The valedictory of Violet Naomi Bennett is given in full below. A trio from Portland furnished music of the highest order and it added greatly to the exercises. Following is the program:

As our happy and prosperous high school life has now drawn to a close, as we classmates are met together for the last time during our school life, before the sad parting comes, bidding a last farewell to our school and its associations, we wish to express our deep appreciation and gratitude to our kind friends who have so willingly aided us through our school days.

Our whole four years of high school life have vanished as a dream, and we are scarcely sensible that one year is past. Happy years indeed! Would that they were back again; that we were just entering into them; that they were before us instead of behind us.

But even if it were so we would be no better satisfied when they were for the second time coming to a close. When the last day of them had passed into eternity we would have as great a desire for their second return as we had for their first. The truth is we are never satisfied, the more one has the more one wants. But alas! In spite of our wants and wishes, "Time waits for no man." So let us take what good there is in time as it passes, for it will never return. Never again shall we all meet to-

Fierce Forest Fire

COTTAGES AT GREAT DIAMOND ENDANGERED.

Blaze Breaks Out Again After Two Days.

One of the most stubborn forest fires in several years broke out last Saturday afternoon at Great Diamond Island. Owing to the long dry spell the woods were like so much tinder and burned fiercely, while a stiff north-west wind carried the flames down in the direction of the summer cottages. An alarm was telephoned to Portland and Engine Companies 1 and 5 were sent down on the fire-boat. In addition the garrison at Fort McKinley turned out with the fort fire apparatus, and the revenue cutter Woodbury also hurried up and sent a detachment of 25 men ashore with axes. In this way a very efficient fire-fighting crew was gathered in a remarkably short time and they did valiant work in checking the march of the flames. With the fire-boat pumping a powerful stream the fire was finally stopped just before reaching some of the cottages. Two days later, however, it broke out again, but was quickly halted by the prompt action of the fire-boat. The ground in the middle of the island is boggy and much resembles peat in its formation, so that a fire may smoulder for days and break out again. To guard against anything similar here, the Woodbury is lying off the island for several more days.

Portland, P. H. S. 1912, who is also stenographer. The night clerk is E. R. Arnold of Providence.

Mr. C. F. Lang is spending a week at the Peaks Island House.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Wright, the manager of the Plymouth theatre in Boston, will spend the season as usual at the Peaks Island House and will come about July 1st.

Professor and Mrs. J. M. Hill of Philadelphia are expected in July and will spend the season at the Peaks Island House.

Recent guests registered at the Peaks Island House are: Mr. and Mrs.

Fatal Burning

MISS MAY MONROE BURNED TO DEATH.

A Summer Resident at Bailey Island For Years.

The entire summer colony at Bailey has been plunged into deep gloom by one of the most appalling accidents that has ever been known there. Last Saturday Miss May Monroe, of New York, while holding a lighted candle in her hand went to the bathroom of her residence. A moment later there was an explosion and she emerged with her clothing in flames. Before these could be extinguished she was frightfully burned and although lingering for a few hours, died later in the night. Miss Monroe had been a summer visitor at Bailey's for several years and had many friends among the residents of the island.

Frank J. Miller, West Roxbury, Mass.; Charles Brown and Harry C. Taylor of Everett, Mass.; Charles A. West of Chelsea, C. L. Drake of Boston, and the Misses Bessie, Abbie and Marion Knight of Bethlehem, N. H.

Merriconeag House.

DELIGHTFUL HOSTELRY DOING GOOD BUSINESS.

Prospects Bright for Best Season In Years.

The Merriconeag, one of the prettiest and most comfortable hotels in the bay, has been open now for several weeks and has been doing a rushing business for this time of year. It has become an increasingly common occurrence for motorists touring through Maine to come down from Brunswick and partake of one of Prop. Pierce's famous shore dinners.

Among those who have followed this example this year have been Mr. Thomas A. Wald and Mr. T. R. Reed of New York City. These gentlemen are taking an automobile trip through

COOL AND COMFORTABLE HERE. TRAVELERS TAKE NOTICE.

Notes of the Early July Doings at this Island Hotel.

The great event of the week has been the 46th annual meeting of the Maine Pharmaceutical Association at the Peaks Island House, the party arriving Wednesday night and remaining until Friday. Thursday evening at seven a special dinner was served, decorations of the club colors and American flags being especially attractive, followed by dancing until early morning. A special orchestra of five pieces furnished the music conducted by Mrs. Mary Hanson of Portland, who is pianist this season at the Peaks Island House. Light refreshments were served during the evening. Most of the party returned to their homes Friday, a few remaining over until Monday.

Tuesday the Cypress Commandery of the Masonic order from Hyde Park, Mass., celebrated their annual outing, which they always have on St. John's day. There were about one hundred members present.

Friday, the Boston Press association arrived at Peaks for the week-end and the first of July another large party, numbering about two hundred, the National T. V. Tourist club of Newark will arrive at the Peaks Island House for four days.

With all these large parties at the Hotel the opening week, the season's business looks promising for the entire summer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell of Dorchester have arrived at the Peaks Island House to spend the season. Mrs. A. R. Otero of New York City has arrived at the Peaks Island House for the season.

The day clerk at the Peaks Island House this year is G. H. Campbell, and his assistant is Clinton Hanson of

Bailey Island

The Johnson.

This ever popular summer boarding house has been considerably changed since last summer. The new addition which has been made to it has about doubled the capacity of the hotel and several improvements have been made, so that the house is now in perfect readiness to accommodate the summer traffic. That this will be if anything, larger than usual is indicated by everything and the house is already completely booked through July. The excellence of the appointments and the superior quality of the table board has had much to do with the great success of the Johnson in former years and these are just as perfect this summer as ever.

Among the names on the register so far this year are: Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm MacKay of Concord Junction, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Chamberlain of Worcester, Mass.; Miss S. I. Handy of Worcester, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ford of New York City.

The Driftwood.

Mrs. Gulliver has been making extensive improvements and repairs upon this charming summer hotel this spring and the place is now looking epic and span for the season. A ten room cottage has been added to the house which will increase its capacity considerably and as the reservations have been particularly numerous this year, it is certain that the Driftwood will be taxed to the limit of its capacity. The house is admirably situated on the cliff above Little Harbor and in stormy weather the guests have a close view of the unparalleled surf for which Bailey Island is famous.

One of the first guests to arrive here this year was Miss Nannie Dorsey of Baltimore, Md., who is registered for the entire summer. Miss Dorsey spent her first season here last year and has become an ardent admirer of the island and bay.

Robinhood Inn.

Robinhood Inn so ideally located among the pines of the northern end of the island, has always been a favorite with the people making Bailey Island their summer home. It belongs to the highest type of summer hotel and under the careful management of Miss Massey has had a success in former years which has been remarkable. This summer Miss Massey is anticipating an even larger number of visitors than usual. In addition to many who will stay here for the first time, the majority of the old frequenters of the place have signified their intention of returning for another season, and the house is well booked for the entire summer. Miss Massey has been down at the island for some time getting things ready for the summer traffic and nothing has been left undone that could add to the comfort and satisfaction of her guests.

The Woodbine.

As always in past years this delightful house will entertain numbers of summer visitors this year and everything points to one of the most prosperous years in its history. While not making any pretensions to style, this hotel prides itself upon the solid comfort and wholesome pleasure afforded to its guests and the table especially is far above that met with in the average summer boarding house. That this policy has been a profitable one is easily seen by a glance at the register of the house and the fact that guests have returned to it year after year shows as nothing else the satisfaction which it has afforded to those who have enjoyed its hospitality.

Mrs. R. L. Dow and Miss Josephine Dow of Watertown, Conn., arrived the first part of this week and will make an extended stay. They have both been here in past years and are firm admirers of Bailey Island.

The Seaside.

The Seaside, under the able management of Mrs. Cram and her son, Mr. Harold Cram, seems about to experience one of the best years it has ever known. The house is always popular among the visitors to the island and the fame of the home cooking has been spread through the country. Many a transient visitor to the shores of Bailey Island has gone away with the memory of one of Mrs. Cram's meals as one of his most pleasant recollections. The hotel in addition to its large transient traffic always accommodates a great number of regular visitors and that this year will be no exception to the rule is shown by the number of letters already received asking for accommodations.

Among those who are now stopping here are: Mr. E. H. Winslow of Portland; Miss Rebecca Dunning of Franklin, Mass.; Miss Elizabeth M. Dunning of Watertown, Mass.; Mr. Clarence M. Ellis of New Haven, Conn.; Mr. Harold W. Ellis of Franklin, Mass.; Mr. E. A. Fargo of Attleboro, Mass.; Mr. E. W. Stevens of Buffalo, N. Y.; Mr. J. M. Sanders and Mr. S. M. Pinckney of Philadelphia; Miss Marie L. Sauvage and Miss Leonie Sauvage of Cambridge, Mass.; Mr. F. O. Davis, Boston.

Mrs. Vance Cheney of New York and Miss Anna Trumbull of Baltimore have rented "Craigenfels" cottage and annex, which is delightfully situated near Thunder Hole. Both ladies arrived at the island this week.

Mrs. Helen R. Adams has been occupying her cottage on Maiden Lane since the first part of May with her daughters, the Misses Mary and Sarah Adams, after spending the winter in Portland. With her is her brother, Mr. William A. Root of Chicago, Ill., who has also been here for a considerable time, arriving the middle part of May. Mr. Root spent the winter near Concord on the farm of his nephew, Mr. Geo. F. Root, Jr.

Mrs. David S. Barker of Plainfield,

N. J., is again at the island for the summer and is now settled in her beautiful home, "The Breakers," on Rock Point. She has visiting her Mrs. John Bluxome, of Montclair, N. J., and her daughter, Mrs. Albert Streuli of Plainfield, N. J. Mr. Streuli, who will join them later in the summer is at present making a business trip in Europe.

Mrs. C. J. Benson and children, Mr. Ernest Baker and children, and Miss Fannie Elsdorff, all of Baltimore, are occupying "Brinydeade" cottage in the Pastures for the summer. They have visiting them at present Miss Ella C. Elsdorff, also of Baltimore, who will be their guest for a few weeks. Mrs. Benson and Miss Elsdorff were at the island last summer and have become enrolled among its firmest admirers.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Taber of Philadelphia, Pa., arrived at the island a few weeks ago and are now settled for the summer in their new cottage in the Pastures, which is a particularly handsome addition to Bailey Island's group of summer residences. Mr. and Mrs. Taber were at the island two years ago and have many friends among the summer colony.

Mrs. Ella J. Wells has according to her usual custom been occupying her cottage in the Pastures all through the winter. She will be joined later in the summer by the Misses Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ingersoll and family of New York City are spending the summer here and are occupying Mrs. E. J. Wells' bungalow. They are looking forward to a most delightful vacation in this, their first summer at Bailey Island.

Mrs. E. E. Cross of Washington, D. C., with Mrs. Burrbridge, is spending the summer at her cottage "Afterglow" in the Pastures and will be here for the remaining part of the summer. Last Saturday Mrs. Burrbridge entertained Mrs. Clara Louise Burnham, Mrs. R. Huntington Woodman and Miss Root at a small card party and tea.

President L. H. Murlin, L. L. D., of Boston University has rented the D. P. Sinnett homestead on the main road and with Mrs. Murlin will spend the entire season at the island.

Great interest has been manifested during the past week by the members of the summer colony here in a dancing class which has been formed by Mrs. Clara Louise Burnham for the purpose of learning the new dances. The class, which meets in Cottage Hall, has had two meetings so far this year, on Wednesday and Thursday afternoon of last week, but from now on it is probable the meetings will be held at night, owing to the fact that the available afternoon hours at Cottage hall have been nearly all taken up.

Mrs. Edwin Tolles of Hartford, Conn., arrived at the island on Monday of last week and has opened her cottage "Edgecliff" over Little Harbor for the summer. She has as her guests at present, Dr. and Mrs. E. R. de Wolfe of New York City, who stopped off in Casco Bay to be her guests while on their way to their summer camp on Lake Onawa.

Mr. J. G. Stetson has again opened up his confectionery store here and one of the most delightful features of the island is again in evidence. This establishment is famous through the bay for the superior quality of the goods it carries and Bailey Islanders are to be congratulated upon having such an up-to-date establishment in their midst.

R. S. Davis Co., Portland, have just the furnishings you want for your cottage. Adv.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ford of New York with their five sons, the Messrs. Edwin, Stuart, Theodore, Benjamin and Lawrence Ford, are spending the summer in the Denny cottage on Summer Hill, the boys sleeping in a tent. Mr. Edwin Ford graduated this year from Princeton University, while Mr. Stuart is a senior at Cornell University, and Mr. Theodore a student at Brown University. The Fords have been to Bailey's several times and have many friends among the residents here.

Mrs. A. C. Colton of Arlington, Mass., has opened her pretty cottage, "Morningglow," for the season and is looking forward to a most delightful vacation in every way. She has as her guest for the summer, Mrs. W. Augusta Hathaway of Arlington, Mass. Mrs. J. Rupert Chamberlain of Worcester, Mass., who has been her guest for two weeks, left recently after a most pleasurable visit.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Potter of Lewiston were down at the island for a few days recently and opened up their charming summer home on Summer Hill. While they were forced to return to Lewiston last week they expect to be back at Bailey's very shortly.

Mrs. Mary E. Jordan, Miss Susan and Miss Elizabeth Jordan and Mrs. Georgietta Lane, all of Lewiston, arrived on Saturday of last week and are occupying their pretty cottage "Bonnyview" for the summer. Miss Carrie Quimby, also of Lewiston, joined them on Monday. Miss Jordan will open up her studio very shortly and will exhibit the beautiful Thompson prints for which she is the agent.

Mrs. E. Quintard St. John of Philadelphia, and Miss St. John are as usual spending the summer at their bungalow near Little Harbor.

Miss Ruth Knight of Worcester, Mass., has opened her new cottage on Summer Hill and will spend the entire season there. Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Knight, came down to the island with her. Mr. Knight was forced to return this week to Worcester, but Mrs. Knight will remain all summer. Miss Knight is an accomplished violinist and a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music at Boston. During the latter part of the summer she will entertain eleven of her friends from the Conservatory, who will meet at Bailey Island after playing during the summer in orchestras at different summer resorts, after which they will break up and disperse to their winter homes. In the group there will be five violinists, two pianists, three cellists, and one viola. Such a gathering of musicians is not often found at one house and there is certainly a rare musical treat in store for Bailey Islanders. The Knight cottage was designed by Miss Knight herself and is of the highest type of summer architecture. From every window one gets a glimpse of the sea and the place commands a magnificent view over the bay.

The Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Atwood of South Weymouth, Mass., arrived two weeks ago at their pretty cottage "Redgables" and will be here till late in September. They expect to be visited later in the summer by their daughter, Mrs. Roger Hill, of Detroit, Mich., who will be welcomed by her many friends among the summer colony.

Mr. J. C. Armstrong and family of Brooklyn, N. Y., arrived here the first part of last week and are now settled in their charming cottage for the season. They are being visited by Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Fairchild and Miss Minnie Fairchild, of Morristown, N. J., who will be their guests all summer. Mr. Armstrong was forced to return to Brooklyn, where he is engaged in Y. M. C. A. work almost immediately after arriving at the island, but he will return over the Fourth for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry R. MacNelle, with their two children of Summit, N. J., arrived at the island last Friday and have opened their pretty home on Pebble Beach for the summer. Mr. MacNelle, who is a member of the firm of Mann and MacNelle in New York, will be forced by his business duties to spend most of the summer in New York, but he expects to find time to make visits off and on throughout the year to his family.

Miss Laura Cunningham of Detroit, Mich., arrived last Friday at the island for a short stay. She will be the guest during her visit here of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Root at their summer home on Pebble Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Woodman and Miss Jocelyn Woodman of Brooklyn, N. Y., are as usual spending the summer at their cottage here, arriving the first part of last week and joining Miss Winifred Woodman, who had come up a week before. Mr. Woodman will start shortly on a cruise along the coast in his yacht "Winjoy," together with the Rev. Charles H. Oilphant, Mr. George W. Oilphant and Mr. Robert Morse. During the winter the "Winjoy" fell over in her cradle where she was laid up at Orr's Island and considerably damaged, but she has now been completely repaired and made ready for the summer.

Mrs. Black also entertained Mr. and Mrs. Milton Knowles and children, Mildred and Harold, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson of Woodford's, a pleasant informal gathering of friends being enjoyed.

Mrs. Ralph Purrington entertained the members of the Modjeska social club to which she belongs at her home on Sedgewood Road. Dinner was served at noon and the day pleasant.

ly spent in an informal social way, the members remaining until late in the afternoon. The members who were all present are Mrs. George Le-favor, Mrs. William F. Dyer, Mrs. George Scribner, Mrs. Flavel Chaplin, Mrs. Thomas B. Peters, Mrs. George Shaw, Mrs. Thomas Johnson, Mrs. Nettie Jordan, Mrs. Herman Dyer and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dyer and children of the East End have moved to the island and will occupy the Orlando cottage, the summer home of Mrs. Dyer's parents, for the remainder of the season.

Mrs. William I. Hartley of Atlantic, Mass., is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Durgin, at their home at Evergreen Landing. Miss Jennie Lamont of Bath, Mrs. Ida Newton of the Riverton Road and Mrs. Jessie Parsons, the nieces of Mr. and Mrs. Durgin, have also been recent guests, forming a pleasant family gathering.

Miss Annie Lord is spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Townsend, going to her home in Kennebunk over week-ends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Parker of New York have taken the Oceanside for the season. The Misses Parker will arrive about July 20 and will spend the rest of the season with their parents.

One of the important events of the week was the 1st reunion of the Eighth Maine Regimental Association at their regiment building Wednesday and Thursday. This is an affair always looked forward to by the different members, as it is an ideal spot for an outing as well as bringing them all together for a general good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Tucker of Taylor street have opened their summer home, the Orchard, on Island avenue for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Briggs, who recently opened their summer home, the Leeward on Island avenue, have gone to Boston and vicinity to visit relatives for a few days, expecting to return about the 3rd of July for the remainder of the season.

Mrs. J. E. Blake, formerly of Portland, now of Waltham, and her mother, Mrs. Emma Gardner, have taken the Summit cottage on Adams street. Mrs. Blake will remain all summer at the island, but Mrs. Gardner will return to her home in July.

Mrs. Joseph Crouse of Baltimore, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Harry Browning, of Sterling street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Small of Cumberland avenue have moved for the season to their cottage, Solid Comfort, at Torrington Point.

Mrs. Charles Cooper and daughters, Margaret and Velma, are expected to arrive at their summer home from Somerville in a few days.

OPEN FOR THE SEASON.

The Wildwood Inn at Wildwood Beach opened for the season Sunday, June 15, and already this popular resort is attracting a large number of sojourners, that are here at Portland and the islands of the bay. The Inn has had many notable improvements made this year among which is the private dining room on the main piazza dining surface facing the ocean. This room accommodates twenty persons or can be engaged for a small party if desired. The whole of the front piazza dining room has been screened to prevent flies and insects from annoying the patrons. This improvement means much to those who desire cleanliness and proper conditions and will further favor the Inn with a discriminating patronage. The grounds around the property also received the attention of the management and choice flowers, shrubs, etc. are everywhere to be seen and add greatly to the attractiveness of the place.

Mr. H. F. Bergen and family of Medford arrived Saturday and are to spend the summer in one of Mr. Clarence Cook's cottages.

Mr. Thomas Gobel and family of Berlin, N. H., arrived last Saturday for the summer months.

Mrs. D. O. Wight and E. M. Wight arrived for the summer and are entertaining Mrs. A. J. Parker, Mrs. M. H. Kelley, both of Dorchester, and Mrs. E. A. Galbraith of Boston.

Mrs. E. A. Galbraith and daughter, Miss Lillian App of Indiana, arrived two weeks ago for the season and are occupying the Glenwood cottage, one of Harriman's new cottages completed this spring.

Tuesday Mrs. R. H. Dactington and daughter, Grace, of New York arrived for an extended visit, to be the guests of Miss App.

J. W. Conger and family of Norwood, Mass., arrived last week for two months on the island in Harriman's cottage at the West End.

W. T. Morgan and family of Portland opened his cottage for the season last Wednesday.

Mr. Clarence Cook arrived several weeks ago for the summer season.

Mr. W. S. Lambert and Mrs. Lambert have recently arrived for the summer.

Mr. Benj. Sawyer and family of the Birches arrived last week to stay until September at their summer cottage, the Birches. Benj. Sawyer, Jr., has received his new motor boat which was built by Lote Wallace, the boat builder from Cundy's Harbor. The boat is of Hampton style and built for speed as well as seaworthiness.

Drake and Darling, the island contractors, are busy improving and repairing the Granite Spring Hotel which has been leased by a lady from Ohio. It is expected the lady will be here and open the hotel by July 2.

Carl Jones and family of Somerville, Mass., arrived for two weeks' visit at Old Cove.

Mr. John Mahoney and family of Sheridan street arrived last week for the summer at their cottage, Bay View, at Doughty's Landing.

The Wren girls, Margaret and Mary, who have been visiting in St. Ann's, arrived on the island last week and opened their bungalow on Fern Park Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Barker of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Horn and son, Eugene, of Portland, are camping for the summer on Leavett street at Camp Snookie.

week was of great interest to the summer residents of the island. Miss Annie McCann and Mr. Wm. Powers, both of Portland were united in marriage Wednesday, June 25, at Cathedral of Immaculate Conception, Portland at 8 o'clock. Many island residents were present at the ceremony including Mrs. John Gamon and family, Misses Margaret and Mary Wien, Mrs. D. P. McKenney and family and many others. Miss McCann has spent the summer here for the past 15 years and is very popular among the younger set. Mr. and Mrs. Powers left at noon for a week's visit in Mass. and Montreal, Can., returning to the island last Sunday where they are to stop for the summer with Mrs. Powers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McCann.

Mr. and Mrs. Littlefield of Congress street, West and the Misses Messey also of Portland, spent the week-end at Meserve cottage, Fern Park.

Capt. Fred Bickford, who is one of the youngest fishermen in charge of a vessel, arrived in Boston the first of last week with a trip of 83 sword fish. Being one of the first trips of season he received a good price for his fish and the crew netted the large sum of $153 for nine days work.

L. Eaton and family of Mass., arrived two weeks ago for the summer at their cottage at the West End. Mrs. Eaton's son-in-law, Paul Eaton, is expected next month for a few weeks.

Miss Esther Bates and mother of Somerville, Mass., arrived a week ago for the season.

The Rev. Mr. Leigh, pastor of the island church, is receiving contributions for benefit of the Doggett family of which the father and eldest son were recently drowned. The neighbors are generously responding and donations are gladly accepted by Mr. Leigh.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dodick and family of Portland are here for the summer, having arrived several weeks ago.

M. Geo. Hodgton and family of Portland arrived for the season at their cottage here.

Misses Dorothy and Esther Perrin of So. Portland were recent visitors on the island.

Mr. Summer Fogg of William street, Portland, spent Sunday on the island.

Tuesday, June 24, the island was visited by a large picnic from Yarmouth. The Protestant churches composing the Congregational, First Baptist, Unitarian and Methodist numbering over 400 left Portland on the steamer Pilgrim at 10 o'clock. Upon arriving on the island, races, baseball and other sports were enjoyed until noon, when dinner was served at Cushing's. In the afternoon dancing was enjoyed until time for the boat, which left at 4 o'clock. The committee in charge was composed of Messrs. L. R. Cook, C. Pallen, R. L. Ward, J. C. Rogers, G. D. Hall, Mrs. Elsie Welton and S. A. Jewel.

Mrs. E. J. Flannigan and family of Brooklyn N. Y., arrived last Saturday for the season at their cottage "Stonehaven," on Fern Avenue.

Mrs. Merrill of North Abington, Mass., and daughter, Ellen, are occupying the Howard cottage until their camp is ready. Mrs. Sanborn of So. Boston is the guest of Mrs. Merrill.

Mr. J. Stokes of Woodfords, moved last week where they are occupying the O'Malley's cottage at the West End.

At Day's Spa, under the management of E. P. and R. P. Mahoney the popular ice cream parlor of the island is meeting with great favor by all the people here. Everything to satisfy the appetite in frozen sweets is served at the tables and the choicest in chocolate goods are offered at the counters. Souvenirs, smokers' goods, soft drinks, papers and magazines are here to help make the vacation a happy one.

LIFE OF WHITTIER

New Englander Left Rich Heritage of Poetry.

Lives, Events and Legends of His Section and Nature His Inspiration—Was Devoted to His Mother—Not Highly Educated.

Hampton Falls, N. H.—As the years go by, New Englanders realize more fully what a rich heritage they have in claiming John Greenleaf Whittier as their own poet. He drew his inspiration from New England sources—from old legends and traditions, from scenes in the hardy lives of primitive people and from the depths and sweetness of nature.

Whittier had no store of deeply grounded education to draw upon. He had no memories of travel in old and classic lands. But he could find in the everyday familiar scenes in his native New England as poetic beauty and suggestion as others sought where Theocritus sang in Sicily, or Catullus on the shores of Lake Garda in Italy.

From the purpose and hope which brought the pilgrims of the Mayflower to these shores, to a New England husking party, Whittier could write poems that had imaginative charm. In his verse there may be found a complete history of New England events and the lives of persons who played a part through historic days.

Whittier was one of the striking figures in the days of the civil war, and in reading his poems of that period there comes a keen realizing sense of what that mighty struggle meant to those who lived during its progress.

His "Snowbound" was written in 1866, and in this masterly piece of simple verse the poet left abiding pictures of his mother, his sister Elizabeth and his Aunt Mercy.

Whittier was devoted to his mother, and she lived till her son was fifty years old. Between him and his sister Elizabeth there was entire sympathy and the strongest affection. She made his home a happy one, with her congenial, loving spirit and the bright sparkle of a wit that Whittier enjoyed keenly.

The poet clung to his quaker associations, although he said of himself that he was not much of a sectarian;

John G. Whittier.

but he added: "I like to hear the Quaker speech and see the Quaker dress. My heart 'warms to the tartan.'"

No man ever attracted warmer friends than did Whittier and they formed a rare circle about the poet's simple life. With William Lloyd Garrison he found joy in work for reforms in existing evils. When Bayard Taylor died, a tender bond was snapped, but Whittier wrote in regard to his loss: "The dear God has not mocked us with the hopes of immortality."

Hawthorne's picture hung in Whittier's chamber, recalling to him a cherished friend; among others to whom he was deeply attached were Starr King, Dr. Holmes, Longfellow, Lowell, Lucretia Mott and Harriet Beecher Stowe. Gail Hamilton worked him a pair of slippers that delighted him. Upon each one was an American eagle.

Whittier is said to have been color blind. A good family story illustrated this defect. The heat from his fireplace defaced some of the wallpaper. The poet obtained some paper of the same pattern and carefully matched it to that on the wall.

He could never quite appreciate the huge joke this was in the family, when it was seen that he had matched a strip of bright red autumn tinted vines to a fresh green one.

$1,000,000 a Day for Protection. Minneapolis.—One million dollars a day is the price paid by the United States for protection against enemies, according to David Starr Jordan, former president of Leland Stanford University. He says that the enemies would have to borrow money from New York before they could fight America.

Bees Infest a Church. Montclair, N. J.—Bees which infest the First Congregational church here are so numerous that an acid will be poured into the interstices of the wall to drive them away. Their buzzing is annoying, and it is said several persons have been stung during services.

Write Ideas For Moving Picture Plays!*YOU CAN WRITE PHOTO PLAYS AND EARN $25 OR MORE WEEKLY*We Will Show You How

If you have ideas—if you can think—we will show you the secrets of this fascinating new profession. Positively no experience or literary excellence necessary. No "flowery language" is wanted. The demand for photoplays is practically unlimited. The big film manufacturers are "moving heaven and earth" in their attempts to get enough good plots to supply the ever increasing demand. They are offering $100 and more, for single scenarios, or written ideas.

We have received many letters from the film manufacturers, such as VITAGRAPH, EDISON, ESSANAY, LUPIN, SOLAX, IMP, REX, RELIANCE, CHAMPION, COMET, MELIES, ETC., urging us to send photoplays to them. We want more writers and we'll gladly teach you the secrets of success.

We are selling photoplays written by people who "never before wrote a line for publication."

Perhaps we can do the same for you. If you can think of only one good idea every week, and will write it out as directed by us, and it sells for only $25, a low figure.

Minister's Wife Is Too Often Misjudged
By HOWARD RANN, New York

the annual conference. She is then used as an object of comparison for the benefit of the new minister's wife.

The beauty of the life of a minister's wife is that she gets a frequent change of scenery and cook stoves. If she has good luck she will be introduced to a new parsonage every two years, where she can wrestle with open plumbing and a leaky roof to her heart's content.

The chief duty of the minister's wife is to serve hot meals at all hours to visiting pastors who have financial scruples against going to the hotel. She is also expected to keep her children looking like little Lord Fauntleroy at the Christmas tree, and if a cobweb creeps into the house the next caller will make a few casual remarks about tidiness in the home and the housekeeping ability of the former pastor's wife.

The minister's wife gets all the family history in circulation in the parish, together with some which is about to be circulated. She forgets this as fast as it is handed to her, thereby disappoints several worthy and disinterested sisters who would like to see it weaved into a sermon.

The minister's wife is often misjudged. If she goes downtown to buy a little bar of soap she will earn an imperishable reputation as a gadger. If she stays at home and communes with the darned egg people will say she lacks sociability. Nothing but genius could manage it and come up smiling.

The minister's wife is not allowed to have any temper or nerves, and the first display of either will raise grave doubts as to whether she was ever converted. Her religion is usually not noisy, but she will be at the head of the class in the great day.

Society Sets the Pace

arrested the dancers. A judge remarked that if they had been arrested he would have fined them.

Such "ifs" as these have more to do with the prevalence of vice than they are credited with.

In these days of vice commissions and the investigating of investigators, to determine where the pitfalls for our young people lie, the most prolific of all sources of vice is only lightly touched upon; and "society" sets the pace for the "masses," secure in its unassailable position.

What are our young people to believe, in the face of such evidence as meets their eyes and ears? They see and hear honor and virtue made the subject of loud jests, in "vaudeville," in popular songs, and all this applauded by presumably respectable people. It speaks well for their level-headedness that so many hold to a firm belief in themselves, in spite of the fact that they see vice appear to flourish and virtue ignored.

It is a good thing to remember in the midst of the bewildering exhibition of cubist morality which confronts us, that while we can hold to a belief in ourselves, we cannot lose faith in humanity.

with the schools, nor specially interested any more, but this is my private opinion publicly expressed.

During my children's school days, from 1884 until 1897, in Chicago, many times when their spelling list would be sent home marked perfect by their teacher for parents to see I have marked from one to five simple words incorrectly spelled.

One case I should like to mention, that of one person educated in a convent, high school and normal school and now a teacher. In reading a brief letter written by her I found two simple words misspelled. They ought to have the old-fashioned spelling book, used in my school days, back in the early '50s, but not in Chicago.

Though past seventy years of age, I should not feel the least bit backward to be in a spelling match with ten of the fresh young teachers of today, and not more than one would get ahead of me.

E. P. & R. P. MURPHY - Proprietors*HILL CREST

BIG EARLY SEASON RUSH THIS YEAR.

Many People Registered for the Summer.

This ever popular house is as usual attracting a large crowd of visitors, even this early in the year. By its courteous treatment and never-failing politeness to all guests, the Hill Crest has made for itself many friends all over the country and these come back year after year to enjoy its hospitality. The many improvements which have been made upon the hotel this year have, if possible, made it an even more delightful place to spend the summer than before and how well this fact is appreciated by the summer travelling public can be seen at any time by a glimpse at the register. Among the guests here so far this year are: Dr. Caldwell of Vermont on June 26; Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Doubleday, Montreal, on June 27; Mr. J. W. Hoban and family, Springfield, on June 28; Misses M. A. and F. B. Green of Rochester and C. S. Mahoney of Roxbury on June 28; Mrs. M. L. Greene, Newark, N. J., Mr. J. N. Douglas and Miss H. M. Douglas, Boston, on June 29; William J. Deeney, Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Nugent and Miss Helen C. Newgent, Boston, and Mr. Fred Linehan, of Boston. The clerk at the hotel this year is Mr. Francis DeFosse Mills, of Portland.

Big Floor Space.

The Tolman, Bradford Furniture company formerly of 17 Preble street have removed to new and larger quarters at the corner of Preble street and Cumberland avenue. Mr. J. S. McGregor is the new partner in the firm, Mr. Johnson having retired. At the new store this old established company have four floors and about 15,000 feet of floor space. The second floor is devoted entirely to second hand goods, the first being given up to new and attractive designs in interior furnishings of all kinds. This is the only store this company now have in Portland and they will be glad to see all old and new patrons at their greatly enlarged and improved quarters.

Cousin's Island

The camp which the Portland High School Cadets used a couple of weeks ago, is being occupied this week by a camping party of boys, numbering twenty odd, from the First Baptist Church Athletic Association. The boys under leadership of George Hinckley, A. E. Neal and W. M. Howatt, arrived Thursday, June 26th, for a week's stay. The camp is located on the back of the island, toward Yarmouth, which is an ideal spot for all sorts of sport and recreation which appeal to boys. Among the members of the party were Burton Maling, Walter Hodges, Paul Burns, John Kingston, Wesley Stewart, Walton Libby, Stanley Thurston, Elmer Moseshead, William Burgess, Benjamin Fuller, Robert Watts, Archie Thompson, Robert Lowe, Walter Manks, Carl Russell, Raymond Seavey, Linwood Cross, and Harold Sloan. Clifford Crossman, Wilmet Jackson and Paul Hughey came down to spend Sunday at the camp. Mr. and Mrs. Corbin Smith are attending to one of the most important departments of camp life, the culinary department. No special trips were planned on the program but a general good time was the order of the day. The expenses of the trip, including meals, transportation, etc., were defrayed by the church, aided by outside friends. This camping trip was a "reward of merit" for the boys who obtained a certain percentage of attendance at church service, and also at the Wednesday night gymnasium drills, which are a feature of the athletic associations' helpful work.

Two Attractive Gowns Which Are Latest Paris Products

The model on the left is of white and blue linen, trimmed with lace. Heavy braid belt ending in tassels. The gown on the right is of flowered chiffon and white net, with broadcloth taffeta sash.

VOGUE FOR FIGURED VOILE.

Revival of Old Fabric Has Been Received Most Kindly by the Public.

The public has taken most kindly to this revival of a very old fabric which is now called voile and which is durable in the highest degree and although there have been a large number of picturesque frocks made of it the newest adaptation of it as a top to a slim white skirt is interesting.

There are some women who prefer this gown made of figured taffeta, which in its new weave is soft and supple, but it does not really give the effect that the voile gives, and does not present as much novelty.

Any girl who is to be married this summer should have one of these gowns in her outfit. If she does not care to wear it as a dancing gown she will find it admirable for informal dinners in her own home, and especially attractive as a tea gown for the 5 o'clock hour. She can add to it a cap of embroidered muslin or cluny lace, which has a round crown to fit the head, a tiny ruffle to hang over the neck and back, a coronet piece in front and wired flaps over the ears. This is the kind of cap Mrs. Castle wears, minus the coronet. When such a cap is trimmed with little bunches of tight rosebuds over each ear the picturesqueness of such a costume is undeniable.

In these days of fanciful footwear one can always add to the color scheme by silk stockings and high-heeled slippers. There is no longer any attempt to match one's shoes to one's gown; on the contrary, one tries to make a harmonious contrast, such as wearing pale blue satin slippers and stockings with a shell pink tea gown and the other way around.

WAISTS AND NEW FIGURES

Swirling Draperies From Shoulder to Heels Are Becoming to Fat and Lean.

As long as we bow down to orientalism we are very sure to be graceful in clothes, because swirling draperies from shoulder to heel are usually becoming to the lean and the fat, to the tall and the short. But the orientals recks not with white starch shirt waists and mannish coat suits. As long as the coat is the only thing to be considered one can have as large a waist as one wishes, but when the coat is lifted and this new oriental skirt is attached to an American shirt-waist the combination is not pleasing and no one knows that better than the women who are trying to make it.

Of course, we have long since learned the art of wearing one color from shoulder to heel, but it is not convenient or agreeable to wear colored shirt-waists in summer, as our desires and our climate call for thin wash fabrics. Therefore if one would look well it seems that the coat must be retained, or one must have a figure cut off in a square way that may be fashionable but is not graceful.

After all, it might be better for women to work themselves out of this problem and lend variety to their costumes at the same time by modifying the waist line of those skirts which are worn with coats and white shirt-waists. There are many ways to do this.

Larger Hats for Summer.

As summer advances and garden parties become imminent, the milliners begin to display larger hats. One attractive lingerie hat was of white Neapolitan straw covered with a plateau of net which was tied in at the bottom of the crown by dark-toned, brocaded taffeta ribbon. The ends of the ribbon crossed in the front and were laid flat upon the brim without ornament. Many of the hats are low-crowned and have drooping brims. Wreaths of tiny flowers encircle the crown and tie in flat loops upon the brim in front.

Ornaments for the Hair.

The straight fillets so much seen with evening dress last year are now partially superseded by those arranged in curves which form a wavy line upon the coiffure. They end in jeweled circlets with short fringe to match, and can be adjusted in a moment. One of the prettiest of jeweled bands for the hair is in a design of wheels between two bands of jeweling. The whole bandeau ends in a point at either side. It is rather high in front, a fashion which suits the round-faced.

Model of flowered chiffon and white net, with broadcloth taffeta sash.

Littlejohn's I.

The season at Littlejohn's, although it has been in progress during June, will not begin to come to its height until this week. The cottages are all in about the same condition as last year, although a few improvements have been made here and there. The Rockmere opened during June and is anticipating a good season. The island has two bowling alleys, one near the Rockmere, which is well patronized by the summer people.

The Post Office is in charge of Mr. J. Arthur Stowell of Freeport, Maine, this year. Mr. Davis, who held the position last year, has gone west to California. There are two mails daily each way, incoming and outgoing.

Miss Josephine Crockett and the Misses Catherine and Eliza Cook of Dorchester, Mass., have arrived at the island and will spend a few weeks at the Allston cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn and family from Somerville, Mass., arrived Monday, June 30, for a month's stay.

The Highland cottage is occupied this year by people from Canada, Mr. and Mrs. William Booth and Miss Symington from Montreal. The party arrived Sunday June 22nd, and Mr. Booth stayed until July 1, while Mrs. Booth and Miss Symington will remain during the entire season. Mr. Booth is an accountant in a lumber concern situated in Montreal.

Miss Barnes and Miss Tobey are again occupying the "Kemah" Cottage this being their seventeenth season. They came down from their home in Brookline, Mass., on June 24th. The cottage is appropriately named since "Kemah" means "In the Face of the Wind" and the cottage is situated on the shore, facing a broad expanse of water over which the wind gets a wild sweep.

Among the early arrivals was Mrs. W. H. Prescott of Jamaica Plain, who arrived on Memorial Day, May 30th at the "Lumberlost." Mrs. Prescott who has been at the island annually since 1897, has at present as guests, Mrs. C. C. Domett and Miss S. P. Coop of Boston. Mrs. Prescott's daughter Helen, is expected down soon with some friends to form a house-party for over the Fourth.

The Littlejohn Island Baseball team is getting together and practicing in preparation for games this summer. Mr. H. W. Chisholm will be manager of the team, and he is assured a hustling lot of players who will creditably represent the island. Chebeague, Mare Point, Bustin's and others of the summer places nearby have had teams in previous years, and it is hoped that they will take as much interest in the game this year as Littlejohn's is manifesting. With four or five teams on neighboring islands, some good sport ought to be assured. Applications may be made to Mr. Chisholm at the Bayview Cottage.

Mrs. W. G. Brittain and family and Mr. W. H. Smythe are pleasantly located at the Crow's Nest, having arrived there from Boston on June 25. They plan to spend ten weeks, practically the entire season, on the island. Littlejohn Island appealed to them especially because of the proximity of the dense pine groves to the sea, a combination that is found in but few places.

Mr. Henry W. Chisholm is anticipating a pleasant season at the Bayview Cottage, near the landing. Mr. Chisholm's home is at Melrose Highlands, Mass. He will doubtless be kept busy by his duties as manager of the baseball team this season.

Mrs. Glover's cottage was occupied last week by a jolly house-party, made up of eight students from the Yarmouth High school. The party arrived on the 17th of June for a ten-days' stay. Those composing the party were the Misses Bertha Crockett, Mabel Doyle, Lida Webb, Bertha Welch, Viola Nickerson, and Messrs. Paul True, Percy Storer, and Chester Frye. They all had a right good time and were sorry to leave when the 27th came around.

Miss Merry and Miss Grace Merry of Toronto, Canada, are expected to arrive at the Highland Cottage either the 4th or 5th of July, to remain through the balance of the season as guests of the Booths. Miss Mildred Duffy of Dorchester, Mass., is spending a few weeks at Littlejohn's as the guest of Mrs. Brittain at the Crow's Nest. The Crow's Nest is very attractively situated near the shore of the island and commands a fine view.

Now that the summer schedule of the Casco Bay and Harpswell lines has gone into effect, the boat service to the island will be much improved. The spring schedule provided for one boat each way, but at very inconvenient hours, while the new time table gives excellent service. The Casco Bay boat, also carries the mail. The Maquoit is on the "inside route" as usual, making the trip twice daily.

Mrs. B. J. Whittemore of Palmer, Mass., and Mrs. George G. Whittemore of South Framingham, Mass., and two children, Helen and Russell, arrived on June 20th at the Lewis cottage, where they will remain during July. Mr. George Whittemore is expected down for over the Fourth, and Miss M. L. Faulkner will come on July 3rd to stay during the rest of the month. Mr. B. J. Whittemore and Mr. G. G. Whittemore will join the party about the middle of the month, planning to stay until the first of August, when they will all return home.

Wondering Where the "Space" Is.

You know how crowded a second-hand furniture store is, always piled high with odds and ends of household goods. Well, there is such a shop on the South side, in a one-story shack, which the other day posted this sign in the window: "Space for rent." "I suppose," remarked a man who was passing, "there must be a vacancy under one of the tables."—Kansas City Star.

Rearranged.

The choir wished to sing a hymn, the first verse of which ended: "The night is falling. Heaven help us as we're calling." But as they wished it for morning service, the leader suggested that they change the wording of it a bit. A young man dutifully proposed the following amendment: "The morn is dawning. Heaven help us as we're yawning."

ALIVE AND KICKING

Jabez Thorpe's Manipulation of Real Affection for the Deserving One.

By VICTOR REDCLIFFE.
"One foot in the grave and the other on a banana peel—that's Jabez Thorpe, to my way of thinking."

"Exactly my opinion. A man of his age crossing the ocean! Never was a hundred miles away from his own hearthstone before. It's a terrible risk he is taking!"

Thus the gossiping neighbors of the reputed wealthy proprietor of Thorpe Farm. It was an echo of the current chatter of the village. When hard-fisted, miserly old Jabez Thorpe announced that he was going to England to settle the estate of a distant relative, it had been a nine days' wonder. It had been reported that the interest of old Jabez in the estate was uncertain. He was a fighter, however, and strenuously declared that he was going to see it that he got his rights.

Thorpe Farm was not the pleasant place in the world. It had a pretend fair house on it, but poorly furnished. As Thorpe grew older he had enclosed three acres near the house, and rented out the rest of his land.

Ten years previous he had adopted the child of a second cousin, Nellie Thorpe. She had grown into his life more of a comfort, guide and support than he realized. It was when he came to give up to Nellie the entire charge of his business during his absence, that he began to understand how much he depended on her. If Nellie felt that he was loading down upon her a vast responsibility, she reflected upon the gratitude she owed him. Jabez Thorpe had given her a shelter when she was homeless, and she took up her new duties seriously, but with her bright little heart full of confidence and cheer.

It is not so hard as I fancied," Nellie wrote to Evan Pearson, her

Asleep With His Feet on the Table.

lover, who was filling a clerkship in another town. "A sister of the man who rents the west farm is seeking to restore her broken health through sunshine, garden work and good food.
She helps me with the milking and chickens daytimes, and stays at the lonely old homestead nights. Uncle Jabez does not know that I am keeping right on with my little business. I want to prove to him what a busy housekeeper I am when he returns.
Besides that, I must fit myself for our own home—long, long ahead, dear, but sure to come if you long for it as I do."

Nellie's "business" was selling milk and eggs. Her exacting relative had cut her down to a minimum as to household expenses, but the economical little housekeeper had managed to save something even out of that. As to the eggs and milk, at the end of a month, Nellie's bookkeeping showed such splendid results that she worked with added pleasure and interest.

Then there was an interruption—sad, sudden and overwhelming. The steamer in which Abner Thorpe had sailed on his homeward trip was reported lost off the Canada coast. Only a few of the passengers had been saved. The name of Jabez Thorpe was not among the list. A week later it was generally accepted in the village that he had met a watery fate.
Nellie went to his lawyer, who was a sensible, kind-hearted old man. He told Nellie to remain right at her post of duty. So far as he knew, no will had been left. This being true, the nearest of kin would inherit. Nellie was not in that list, but he encouraged her to believe that the heirs would make some provision for her.

And then, much to the discomfort of Nellie, the heirs apparent began to arrive. There was the relict of a brother of Jabez Thorpe, in weeds, and always snuffling and plying herself. There was a fantastic, fussy old maid cousin who entertained great hopes because Jabez Thorpe had once sent her a birthday gift. There was a callow youth studying for the bar, who claimed near relationship, and a vast deal of knowledge as to the legal phases of the estate. There was a shiftless youth, besides, and all these planted themselves about the premises. For two days Nellie welcomed them. Then she thought the situation all over. She went modestly but firmly before them one morning.

"I have only the directions of the lawyer, Mr. Randall," she said, "as to being in charge here, but he has told me to go right on doing my duty in Mr. Thorpe's interests until the estate is settled. Mr. Thorpe left me only enough money to cover the regular expenses, and I fear I cannot afford to entertain so much company."

Thereupon the lazy young man growled out something about niggardly treatment, the lady in mouning flounced out of the room in hy-sterics, and the fussy old maid flared up like an offended pussy cat. The young legal sprig walked out on his dignity. There was no dinner that day.

The tribe thereafter got their meals at the village hotel. They by no means deserted the old homestead, however. There was too much envy and suspicion among them for that.
They watched one another as though afraid that some one was going to carry off the estate—house, farm and all.

Never would the faithful, persevering Nellie forget one bright afternoon
as she went about the house attending to her manifold duties. The young limb of the law was smoking a pipe in the sitting room, the other male watcher of the slow development of the estate was asleep with his feet on the table. In the parlor the sniffling relict and the fussy old maid were chattering away like magpies,
when Nellie heard a roar.

She dropped the plate she was holding, and it was smashed to smithereens at her feet. Then with a scream of delight she darted into the sitting room, gave one glance at a sturdy, wrathful figure filling the doorway, and bounded straight into the arms of—Jabez Thorpe.

"Oh, uncle! uncle!" she cried. "I am so glad—so glad!"

"Yes, and the only one who is," replied the old man, as he placed a sheltering arm about her. "You young sprig of insolence!" he shouted at the astonished smoker, "out of here with that vile pipe of yours! Here, wake up and march!" he added, pulling the sleeper from his chair. "As to you, ladies," he sang out to the occupants of the parlor, "I've heard in the village of how you've all flocked here
like a set of crows after a carcass.
Well, old Jabez is alive and kicking, after all. And before the day is over he's going to save you the expense and trouble of coming to any more funerals by leaving what he's got, when it's ready to leave, to the only one among the crowd of you who is worth two pins—and that's Nellie."

It was after the dejected, disappointed mob of fortune seekers had left that Nellie proudly exhibited her bookkeeping. It ended by the old man manifesting real affection for his loyal and faithful housekeeper in the words:

"You have proved what you are,
dear child—true and good, with a heart of gold. We will have Evan Pearson down here Saturday evening,
and make a new deal all around."
(Copyright, 1913, by W. G. Chapman.)

"Like a Thousand of Brick."
Years ago, in city and country, a common phrase to indicate retribution for wrong, real or fancied, was, "I'll come down on him like a thousand of brick," but this threat seems insignificant in the light of an assertion by Jefferson Middleton of the United States geological survey, that during the year 1912 more than a million thousand brick were used in Greater New York, and that nearly all were manufactured in the kilns along both sides of the lower Hudson river.

The total production in this region was 1,019,259,000, valued at $5.74 a thousand, a total of $5,850,770, as against 926,072,000, valued at $5.09 a thousand in 1911, a total of $4,717,633, making an increase of production in 1912 over that of 1911 of 92,187,000 brick and $1,133,137 in value.

For several years before the use of cement or concrete in construction appeared to be displacing brick to some extent, but now according to Mr. Middleton, there is a distinct movement
"back to brick," caused by large advertising by brickmakers, the failure of some concrete buildings and improvement in the quality of Hudson river brick.

That Was Mike, Sure Enough!
Sometimes boggars make mistakes
in their calls as the following incident shows.

By mistake a tramp knocked at a wayside cottage in Scotland inhabited by a policeman, and was astonished when that official answered the door himself. With evident alarm the man blurted out, "Does Mike So-and-so stay about here?"

"What is he like?" said the policeman, and receiving a very vague description in reply, he made pretense of going inside to ask his wife. Re-appearing in a minute or so with his hand held behind his neck, he said:
"Would you know Mike if you saw him?" "Yes," replied the tramp. "Is this anything like him?" asked the good-natured policeman, and he held out a substantial buttered scone. With a broad grin of relief and satisfaction the tramp said, "That's the very chap."

Surprised Her.
The stout party had been in the boothshop for over an hour, and the patient shop assistant had had half the shop down for her inspection. She found fault with them all, until his patience became quite exhausted.

"These should suit you," he said,
taking another pair down as the last resource.

Still the lady was not satisfied. "I don't like this sort," she said; "they have a tendency to get wider when they are a bit old."

"Well, madam," retorted the exasperated assistant, politely, "didn't you?"

Scattered throughout the Caroline

massive ruins, one of a sort of Venice, whose origin is wrapped in mystery.
Hundreds of acres in some localities are covered by the remains of walls, canals and earthwork of a stupendous character. There are old roads paved with stone blocks, ancient stone plat-

a dazzling light, yet which is tantalizingly elusive when I try to catch it, and then when I do finally separate it from the brown hair and give it a

Cliff Island

The Beechwood.

Although last year was the first one that this pretty hotel was opened to the public, it enjoyed a success which was really remarkable when one considers what generally unfavorable conditions prevailed in the summer trade. This year Mrs. Pettengill is anticipating a season if anything better than last, more especially as the greater part of those who were her guests last year have signified their intention of returning to enjoy her hospitality again. Among these is Miss Anita Silcox of New York City, who has been coming to the island for several years and is becoming more infatuated with it every year. She arrived early in the season and will probably stay until late in the summer. The house has been well booked through the season and the next few weeks will see it completely filled.

Aucocisco House.

This ever popular summer hotel is again opened for the season and this year bids fair to be the most successful in its history, judging by the number of applications and bookings already received. Mrs. Kemp Battle Batchelor arrived from Baltimore on June 16 to open the house up and was accompanied by her son and daughter, Miss Mary Carye and Mr. Kemp Batchelor, and her two nieces, Miss Dorothy and Miss Winifred Batchelor. The hotel has been undergoing extensive repairs and improvements and is now entirely ready to accommodate the guests. A modern system of plumbing has been installed throughout, and everything has been done which could tend toward the comfort and satisfaction of visitors to Cliff Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Payne and son of New York City, arrived at the island a short time ago and took possession of their cottage near the east end of the island. Mr. Payne was forced to return to New York almost immediately, but is coming back to join his family here over July 4 for a few days. Mrs. Payne brought with her her beautiful collie dog Fritz, who is as great a lover of Cliff Island as any other summer visitor to its shores.

Mr. W. F. Johnson has recently had a pumphouse built upon his property here and is able at the present moment to supply his cottages with the purest artesian water. As this is one of the hardest things to obtain at any summer place, Mr. Johnson is to be much congratulated upon his acquisition.

R. S. Davis Co., Portland, carry everything possible for the summer home. Try them. Adv.

Mr. Earl MacVane of this island spent a few days here last week at his home, after returning from a most successful fishing trip in the sword-fishing boat "Gladys." His many friends among the residents were extremely glad to welcome him back although it was much regretted that he was forced to go away again almost immediately on another fishing trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Asher Black of Hamilton, Bermuda, and Mr. Orrett Whitton, who have been spending June in their pretty cottage on the West Shore, will sail from Boston shortly for Europe where they will spend the summer touring through the older continent. They will probably be gone about twelve weeks and all are looking forward to the trip with much pleasure. It goes without saying that they will be greatly missed by all their many friends and acquaintances upon the island.

Mr. and Mrs. William Weldon of Boston, Mass., were the guests for a day last week of the Misses Nellie and Laura Bennett, who are as usual spending the summer at their cottage on Sunset Road. The Misses Bennett also entertained Mrs. Joseph Newman of Newton, Mass., over last Sunday. They will be visited for a short time also by Mrs. Walter H. Newey and her daughter, Miss Marion Newey, of Boston, who will make their arrival at the island on Tuesday of this week.

Mrs. E. A. Solomon of Brooklyn, New York, is according to her annual custom occupying her beautifully situated summer home upon the Heights. She arrived here very early in the year, having been at the island since the last part of May and expects to stay until the month of October.

Miss Elizabeth Griffiths of Brooklyn, N. Y., made her appearance at the island on Thursday of last week and has taken possession of her beautiful cottage for the remaining part of the season. She has as her guest, Miss Farnsworth of Portland, who will visit her for some time. Miss Griffiths is an old admirer of Cliff and each year only increases her fondness for the place.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Fiske of Auburndale, Mass., are now settled for the summer in their wonderfully located home, "The Ledges." They will be gladly welcomed by the summer colony here, as they have always taken a prominent part in any movement for the betterment of the island. It was largely owing to Mr. Fiske's untiring efforts that the Cliff Island Improvement Society was launched on its career, and he has taken an active interest in many other similar undertakings.

Mrs. G. W. Plack of Laredo, Texas, and her daughter, Miss Marion Plack, are spending their third summer at the island, having arrived at their cottage at the East End last week. Miss Plack spent the winter in Philadelphia where she is studying art, but her mother has come all the way from Texas, where she has been in the midst of the activities upon the Mexican border. Laredo is situated upon the United States boundary line and was actively involved in the near-war which took place last winter.

Mrs. Charles F. Hunter of Phoenixville, Pa., is expected to arrive at her cottage here this week, much to the delight of her many friends upon the island. She has been coming here for many years and would not dream of going elsewhere to spend the summer holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. William Black of Malden, Mass., are at present settled in a cottage on the West Shore for the summer. They are looking forward to a most pleasurable vacation in every particular.

Mr. and Mrs. William W. Gilchrist and family of Philadelphia, Pa., have been at their cottage here for a considerable time, having arrived early in June. Mr. Gilchrist is an artist of much repute and an exhibition of his paintings at Portland last winter won the praise of all who saw them.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Southard of Westbrook, Me., are now occupying their summer residence here, "Wanne-laki Lodge." They have rented their farm near Westbrook and will make Cliff Island their home for the whole summer.

Mrs. James Rankin of Malden, Mass., spent a few days here last week at her cottage "Redfern." She will return shortly to her home in Massachusetts.

Miss Janet Cobb of Portsmouth, N. H., is again spending the summer at "Daisy" cottage and is accompanied by Miss Janet Delano of Portsmouth, and Miss Helen Cobb of Malden, Mass. Mrs. Cobb, who celebrated her ninety-sixth birthday last February, was one of the first summer visitors to the shores of Cliff Island, and is well known to all the residents of the place. "Daisy" cottage is always the scene of merry times during the summer and its owners are already planning some for this year. Mr. Horace Cobb of Portsmouth and Miss Adelaide Cobb of Malden, are expected this week to join those already here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Scull of Phoenixville, Pa., will be among the few missing from the summer colony this year. Mr. Scull has recently bought a farm near his home in Pennsylvania where he will stay this summer. Next year, however, they expect to return to Casco Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo S. Cobb and their daughter, Miss Helen Cobb, of Portland are occupying their prettily situated "Cozy" cottage for the summer. Having been down here some little time. They have been coming to the island for several years and have many friends among both winter and summer residents.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kimball, usually among the first visitors at the island, are not expected here till next week when they will again take possession of their beautiful cottage "Fairlea." Mr. and Mrs. Kimball have been spending the winter traveling in California.

Mrs. Henry Bird and family of Portland have opened their cottage "Saint Francis" for the summer and are anticipating a delightful vacation here. Mrs. Bird is entertaining at present Mrs. Samuel Smith, Mrs. H. E. Barbour and Miss Ella Thomas, all of Portland, who will be her guests for a considerable time. Last Wednesday night Mrs. Bird entertained some of her friends among the summer colony at an informal gathering at her house. Selections were rendered upon the phonograph and Mrs. Barbour gave several delightful recitations, after which some dainty refreshments were served. All those present declared that they had rarely spent a more delightful evening.

CHEBEAGUE.

we must not lose courage. We must struggle through the great, wide future, which in all probability lies before us, to try to find there something which will bring to us more happiness, courage and success than we have ever known before.

If one prospers in his undertakings it means work, strifes and trials; for nothing is bought without being paid for. Thus it is in our case classmates. If we would be victorious in the battle we must fight and never surrender, no matter how tempting a foe we may have to conquer. And for the time which we have lent to school life we shall receive ample reward, when we shall need the knowledge which we have derived from it in our future achievements.

So whatever you do classmates: Do not give up. Let "Ever onward" be your motto in the future as it has been in the past, so that when you shall undertake some noble task and lose courage before it is completed, you may never think of giving up, but strive until it is done at whatever cost and make yourselves worthy of our motto, "Ever onward."

Schoolmates: Ever aim to soar higher. Don't think when your high school work is completed that you have gone as far as possible and as far as is necessary. You have not! Far from it! Have a desire to go farther. You have only gained one round on the high ladder, and many more rounds lie ahead of you, each one saying, "You can reach me if you will."

Now Schoolmates: When you are tempted to surrender, always think of these few words of advice. May they ever prove beneficial to you when perplexities arise, while you are striving to solve the problems of life.

We wish to extend our infinite thanks to our most kind teachers, under whose guidance and instructions we have passed so many happy hours; and to our superintendents and committees who have presided over us; for although we have not had the opportunities and pleasure of being with them a great deal, we have still realized their value, and have learned to appreciate them very much.

Now, although we say goodbye to our schooldays, they are "Gone but not forgotten," for as our thoughts wander back over the past, pleasant memories of our school life and its connections will ever thrill us; its happy hours, its helpfulness, and above all our dear classmates.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Thompson of Woodford are as usual spending the summer months at their charming cottage here, having arrived early in the

A Special Exhibit — of — Maine Tourmalines at Moderate Prices

The beauty, the sparkle, the lustre of these beautifully cut, genuine Maine Gems must be seen to be understood — we cannot properly describe them.

Maine Tourmalines have taken their deserved place among the precious stones of the world. It would be hard indeed to reproduce or duplicate their colorings in any other gem. In our present magnificent showing will be found a great many exquisite tints peculiar alone to the Tourmaline family — the daintiest shades of green as well as the deeper tints, blues in light and dark shades, bluish greens beyond description or comparison, pinks in pale tints and those that are more pronounced, etc., etc.

We have rare specimens of the Tourmaline set up in 14 Karat Gold settings, also in silver, platinum finish in new oriental designs. Scarf Pins, La Valieres, Rings, Bar Pins, etc. Orders taken for gold or platinum settings. A large collection of loose stones from which to select.

We guarantee these goods to be the GENUINE MAINE TOURMALINES — priced the same as we do all other lines in our store — no fancy prices here.

Mrs. Antoine Dorticco of East Orange, N. J., has been at her summer home "Windermere" since the first part of June. She has staying with her at present her niece, Miss Marie Haines of Woodford, and will be joined next week by her sons, Messrs. Carlos and Philip Dorticco, who are both connected with the General Electric Co., the former at the Chicago and the latter at the Paterson branch. They expect to spend most of their time here cruising along the coast as both are enthusiastic and experienced sailors.

Prof. and Mrs. L. M. Passano of Winchester, Mass., with Miss Elizabeth and Mr. L. M. Passano, Jr., arrived a short time ago at their cottage "Lone Ash" at the West End for the rest of the summer. While Professor Passano, who is professor of mathematics at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, was forced to return to Boston, he will come back to the island the first part of August for two months.

The Rev. Frank Vernon of Portland with his children, Miss Alice and Mr. Campbell Vernon, will occupy their cottage at the head of Chandler's Cove again this summer and have been down at the island for some time. Dean Vernon is dean of the St. Luke's Cathedral in Portland.

Among the absentees from the summer colony this year are Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Ellison of Merion, Pa., with their sons, Messrs. Richard and Norman Ellison, Jr. They are spending the summer touring through the country in their automobile, but may come to the island for a short time the latter part of the summer.

Another family who will be greatly missed by their friends upon the island are Mr. and Mrs. William M. Stewart of Germantown, Pa. Mrs. Stewart is spending the summer in Europe with her daughter, Miss Alice Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Ames Ballard of Philadelphia, Pa., and their daughter, Miss Mary Ballard, are expected to arrive at the island this week and will occupy their beautifully situated summer home "Khatmandhu" at the West End. They will be joined later in the summer by Messrs. Ernest and Fred Ballard for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hoben and their two sons of Springfield, who are registered at Hill Crest, are occupying the large, comfortable rooms in the lower front part of the Bay View, an annex to Hill Crest. They are among the steadiest of Chebeague's summer visitors, having been Hill Crest guests for a number of seasons and afterward taking a cottage near the bathing beach for several summers. Last year they had the green cottage on the Caldwell property.

Mr. Hoben is a successful fisherman and frequently makes day trips out for the big ones.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Ball and family, of Winchester, are at their modern bungalow on the back shore bluff. This property has been for sale during the spring and it is without question one of the most desirable places on the coast of Maine.

R. H. Cleaves' cash grocery and bakery which has always held a high reputation for service and quality is, as usual, busy attending to the multiple duties of such a store in summer. The heavy trade begins early, the last week in June, usually, meaning rush and confusion in many cases, but years of experience have given the Cleaves store a standing which represents more than a mere cash and merchandise transaction with his customers. It is the spirit of accommodation, even in busiest hours which gives this market its strength with the buyers. In addition to this, Mr. Cleaves sells fresh bakery products and sanitary ice cream, both classes of these goods made on the premises. Coal and ice are also handled as an accommodation to customers.

On Sunday afternoon, June 8th, A. R. Littlefield had the misfortune to lose his barn by burning; only by the prompt action of the men of the community the house was saved. The origin of the fire is not known.

The rural free delivery route is giving excellent satisfaction here and the boxes are much in evidence along all the country roads. The carrier, Archie Bowen, at present covers his circuit once daily.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Hunt, of Beverly, with their little son, Aiden Peabody, and maid, have taken a cottage at the East end as usual for the summer. Mrs. Hunt has been spending a month in Topsfield while Mr. Hunt was on a business trip in the Berkshires.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Ridge and Miss Jessie Ridge of Portland, are again occupying their pretty cottage at the West End for the summer, and were accorded a hearty welcome by all their many friends in the summer colony. Miss Ridge will enter Wellesley College this fall, having graduated with high honors from the Portland High School this year.

Dr. and Mrs. Harmon Morse of Baltimore, Md., arrived the first part of the month at their cottage here and will remain till late in the summer. Dr. Morse is director of the chemical laboratory at the Johns Hopkins University and is prominent among American chemists.

If you want the best and nothing but the best for your cottage go to R. S. Davis Co., Portland. Adv.

Dean Vernon of St. Luke's Cathedral, Portland, accompanied by Miss Prindle and his two children, Alice and Campbell Vernon, are here at "Coveside" cottage, his beautiful summer home at the West End colony.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Bowen and son, Richard, of Boston, are in Chebeague and will spend the remainder of the season at the Blair Cottage near Central Landing.

Mrs. O. W. Richardson, wife of Professor O. W. Richardson of Princeton University, with their three children are here at the Newell cottage for the summer months. Last season the family occupied the G. R. Johnson cottage at South Harpswell. Mr. Richardson is teacher of physics at Princeton College. During the greater part of this summer he will be in Europe but will return to this country in September and come direct here to remain with his family for a little while before returning to his college duties.

MERRICONEAG HOUSE.

Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, and have been loud in their praise of the country through which they have passed.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Seyward of Winchester, Mass., were guests here for several days the past week. They were much pleased with their experiences at Harpswell and regretted

If you want the best there is in cottage furnishings, go to R. S. Davis Co., Portland. Adv.

This year promises to be the most successful year in every way that South Harpswell has yet witnessed. The majority of the old summer residents are already back at their cottages and there are a greater number of new faces here than ever before. The Merriconeag House, which is again under the management of Frederick A. Pierce of Boston, has the largest number of guests that have ever been booked there this early in the season. Beginning next week the social life for which this spot is noted will have commenced. The Auburn colony will play its usual part with musicales, dances, card parties, teas and other like events. The cottage settlement can be depended upon to do its share in making life enjoyable at this pleasant resort. So all in all a most pleasing and delightful summer can be expected.

Mrs. Martha Williams of Cambridge, Mass. with her two children, Miss Mary and Mr. Frank Williams, arrived a short time ago from their home in Massachusetts and are now occupying "Solid Comfort" cottage on Hurricane Ridge. Mrs. Williams was here a few years ago for the summer and was deeply struck by the surpassing beauties of the Point and Bay.

Dr. and Mrs. H. V. Neal and family of Galesburg, Ill., are as usual spending the summer camping out here. Dr. Neal, who is professor of biology at Knox college at Galesburg, will work during the summer in the Tufts College laboratory here.

Dr. and Mrs. Duncan Johnson of Baltimore, Md., arrived here about two weeks ago for the summer months. Both are very fond of Harpswell having come here several times in past years. Dr. Johnson is professor of botany at Johns Hopkins University.

Professor and Mrs. Stoddard of Northampton, Mass., with their daughter, Miss Dorothy Stoddard, arrived at Harpswell a short time ago and will occupy the Dahlgren cottage for the remainder of the summer. Dr. Stoddard occupies the chair of chemistry at Smith College.

Miss Bertha Dunn of Baltimore, Md. is spending the summer here. Miss Dunn, who is taking post-graduate work at Johns Hopkins University, will work while here under Dr. Duncan Johnson in the Tufts College laboratory.

Mr. W. H. Glascock of Muncie, Ind., is also working under Dr. Johnson here. Mr. Glascock is a post-graduate student at the University of Wisconsin and is expecting to take his degree there next year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Roberts of Ridge-wood, N. J., arrived here the latter part of last week. They are occupying the Johnson cottage during their stay here and are taking their meals at the Auburn colony dining room.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Dana of Westbrook are as usual settled for the summer in their cottage at the Auburn colony, much to the pleasure of their many friends among the summer residents. Miss Ethel Dana has also arrived, coming down last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Bridge of Newton, Mass., arrived here on Saturday of last week to open their cottage for the summer. They are anticipating a most delightful vacation here.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Moffit and their two children of Philadelphia, Pa., are spending the holidays at Harpswell, having arrived for the summer a short time ago. During their stay here, which they are expecting to be one of the most delightful in their experience, they will occupy the Baxter cottage in the Auburn colony.

Mrs. H. G. Lord of Newark, N. J., who has been a steady resident of South Harpswell for several years, is again occupying her cottage here and expects to remain for the balance of the summer season.

Miss Anna B. Grant of Salem, Mass., arrived last Saturday at Harpswell for a two weeks' stay. She has taken the Parker cottage in the Auburn colony and is enjoying every minute of her stay in Casco Bay.

Miss Jean Pendlebury of Philadelphia, Pa., and her grandmother, Mrs. Baillie, arrived here the first part of last week and are now comfortably settled in their beautifully situated cottage "Inglenook," overlooking Merriconeag Sound. They will be joined later in the summer by Mrs. Pendlebury who has been spending several years at this resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swan of Providence, R. I., who were visitors here last year for a short time, are again staying here, this time for the entire summer. They are occupying one of the Dana cottages in the Auburn colony, and are looking forward to one of the most enjoyable summers they have ever known.

Mrs. J. Watson Smith and her daughter, Miss Nathalie Smith, of St. Paul, Minn., are expected shortly to visit Mrs. F. A. Morey at her charming summer cottage on Hurricane Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Young of Auburn, who have been spending some time at their pretty cottage on Hurricane Ridge, returned last Monday after a delightful two weeks at Casco Bay.

Mrs. Waldo Flitts and her daughters, the Misses Adrienne and Esther Flitts, of Mansfield, Mass., have arrived for the summer here. Mr. Flitts is expected to arrive later on in the season. This family have been coming to Harpswell regularly for many seasons and each year only serves to increase their affection for the place.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Teague and Miss S. E. Pickering of Lewiston have returned to their handsome summer home on Hurricane Ridge after being away for a short time in Lewiston. They hope to remain at Harpswell for the balance of the summer season.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Chaplin of Georgetown, Mass., are spending their first summer in these waters and are now occupying the "Shanty" at Has-

"SUNNYSIDE"

National Couch Beds.

The ideal sleeping arrangement, having many distinct advantages over the ordinary couch bed. The "Sunnyside" has a perfectly level genuine National spring and the mattress rolls, not folds, so there is no sagging or uncomfortable ridge in the center. When extended it makes an ample and comfortable double bed, and when closed the bottom part of the mattress forms a fine denim cushion. Mattress and pad move into place automatically with the opening and closing of the couch. The bed clothes can be left on sleeping mattress, ready for instant use. Another great advantage lies in the fact that when opening or closing there are no casters to scrub and mar floor or carpet. The "Sunnyside" is just the thing for cottage, camp or any place where comfort combined with economy of space is desired.
